COLLETTE DINNIGAN: UNLACED FINAL WEEK

Exhibition must close Sunday 29 January

Sydney, Australia: this is your last chance to experience Collette Dinnigan: Unlaced at the Powerhouse Museum. The exhibition showcases some of Dinnigan’s most famous dresses as well as a retrospective of decades of her designs. Collette Dinnigan: Unlaced will close on 29 January.

Curated in collaboration with Dinnigan herself, the exhibition spans the designer’s 25 year career, featuring over 100 garments including her signature lingerie, bridal wear, ready-to-wear and resort collections, alongside striking signature lace and embellished designs and never-before-seen objects and accessories from her personal archive.

Collette Dinnigan: Unlaced was opened by Collette Dinnigan and the Hon Julie Bishop in August 2015. It was the first exhibition in the MAAS Centre for Fashion, followed by Isabella Blow: A Fashionable Life in 2016.

Museum of Applied Arts and Sciences (MAAS) Director, Dolla Merrillees, said: “Collette Dinnigan: Unlaced has been one of our most popular exhibitions. The opportunity to see Collette’s work up close reveals her detailed craftsmanship. Visitors have also enjoyed seeing dresses worn by celebrities such as Taylor Swift, Dita Von Teese and Catherine, Duchess of Cambridge.”

With cutting-edge 3D printed fashion on display in Out of Hand, the permanent Lace Studies Centre and a fashion exhibition due to be announced next month, the Museum of Applied Arts and Science’s Centre for Fashion has much to offer lovers of fashion and textiles.
